NEW STATE LAWS EFFECTIVE TODAY

Governor Jackson Issues Proclamation Declaring in Effect 136 of 218 Acts Passed

OTHERS ALREADY IN EFFECT

Most Notable of Acts Was Taking Effect of Wright's "Bone Dry" Act

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., April 28—Governor Jackson today issued a proclamation declaring in effect the 136 of the 218 acts passed by the 1925 legislature.

The remainder of the acts have already gone into effect or are to go into effect at a later date.

The declaration was issued when the receipt for bound volumes of the acts sent out by the secretary of state to all counties in Indiana was turned in from the last county.

The date upon the acts on which they are effective is the date of the last receipt.

Eighty-eight receipts were in yesterday and the remaining were sent in today.

Most notable with the proclamation of the acts was the taking effect of the Wright "bone dry" act making Indiana one of the driest states in the union.

The act codifies all the prohibition acts heretofore put into effect in the state and sets stricter limitations on liquor law violators than any other acts heretofore in effect.

Those who opposed the act in the last legislature expect its constitutionality to be severely attacked.

Next to the prohibition act, the Harlan garnishment act is deemed the most important which will go into effect on the proclamation.

It provides for the garnishment of all incomes even to that of the lowest wage earner; all incomes under the acts will be subject to garnishment for debt.

The Moorhead act for the regulation of all intercity common carrier motor busses and trucks by the public service commission was put in force by the proclamation. Application for certificate to operate are expected to come in rapidly to the commission soon after the proclamation is broadcast.

Regulation of the sale of pistols and revolvers is provided in the Holmes act which went into effect with the proclamation.

Other acts put into force include:

Three administration measures providing for a state budget advisory committee, diversion of all state fees into the general fund, and elimination of all special levies by transferring them into the general fund.

Consolidation of the state library, state law library, historical commission, and the legislative reference bureau into one department. This was passed on March 23.

COPIES OF NEW LAWS ARE DISTRIBUTED HERE

County Clerk Barlow Receives 180 Volumes and New Laws Which Went into Effect Today

MONTH EARLIER THIS YEAR

Copies of the acts of the 1925 Indiana General Assembly have been received here by Leonard Barlow, county clerk, and are being distributed to persons entitled to the volumes. There were 180 copies of the laws received in the shipment.

The acts this year are in advance of the ones usually received by 30 days, and this year the books were sent to the outlying counties first, and those closer to Indianapolis came last in the list.

Since each county clerk has received for the books, and all 92 receipts are in the hands of Governor Jackson, he issued a proclamation declaring the laws as enacted by the legislature, to be in effect and full force.

A record has been established this year in printing the books and sending them out, as the earliest date on record for issuing the proclamation was May 31, during the administration of Gov. McCray.

MERCURY TAKES DROOP

Weather Man Puts "Quietus" to Summer Time Temperatures

The weather man turned the mercury backward down the tube during the night, and shut off the summer time temperatures that prevailed last week end when the highest reached was 89 degrees.

With the extremely high temperatures of several days last week, a sudden change was perfected during the night, and the mercury that had stood above the 80 mark for several days, dropped to 44 degrees above zero during the night. The drop was especially noticeable, because one had adapted themselves to the warmer weather. The prediction for Wednesday is for continued cool, with possibly showers by Wednesday night.

FIVE WEEKS' SERIES OPENS AUSPICIOUSLY

Classes for Women are Held in Richland and Noble Townships Monday with Good Attendance

DR. N. M. ARTHUR LECTURER

The five weeks' series of classes for women, to be held in Rush county under the auspices of the Indiana State Board of Health, division of infant and child hygiene, opened auspiciously Monday with meetings in Noble and Richland townships.

There were forty-three in attendance at the New Salem school building session and twenty-three at the Richland M. E. church. The lectures were delivered by N. Maude Arthur, M. D., who is assisted by L. Evaline Renwick, a registered nurse.

A series of five meetings every Monday will be held in these two townships, and today the lectures were given in Ripley and Posey townships. The same progression will be observed each week, in accordance with the program announced Monday. The first four lectures will be given in the daytime, and the last one at night, because it will consist of motion pictures, including the film, "Well Born."

The last of each week's series will be for Rushville township women every Saturday afternoon at two o'clock at the court house assembly room. Women are invited to be present for the meeting which it is most convenient for them to attend, regardless of whether it is in their township.

SENIORS TO PRESENT SECOND CLASS PLAY

"The New Coed", College Comedy in Four Acts, to be Staged Thursday and Friday Nights

WILL BE AT GRAHAM ANNEX

The class of 1925 is the first in the history of Rushville high school to present two class plays in the school year. "The New Coed," the college comedy in four acts, to be presented Thursday and Friday evenings of this week at the Graham Annex, promises to be as splendid a program as "What Happened to Jones," staged in February.

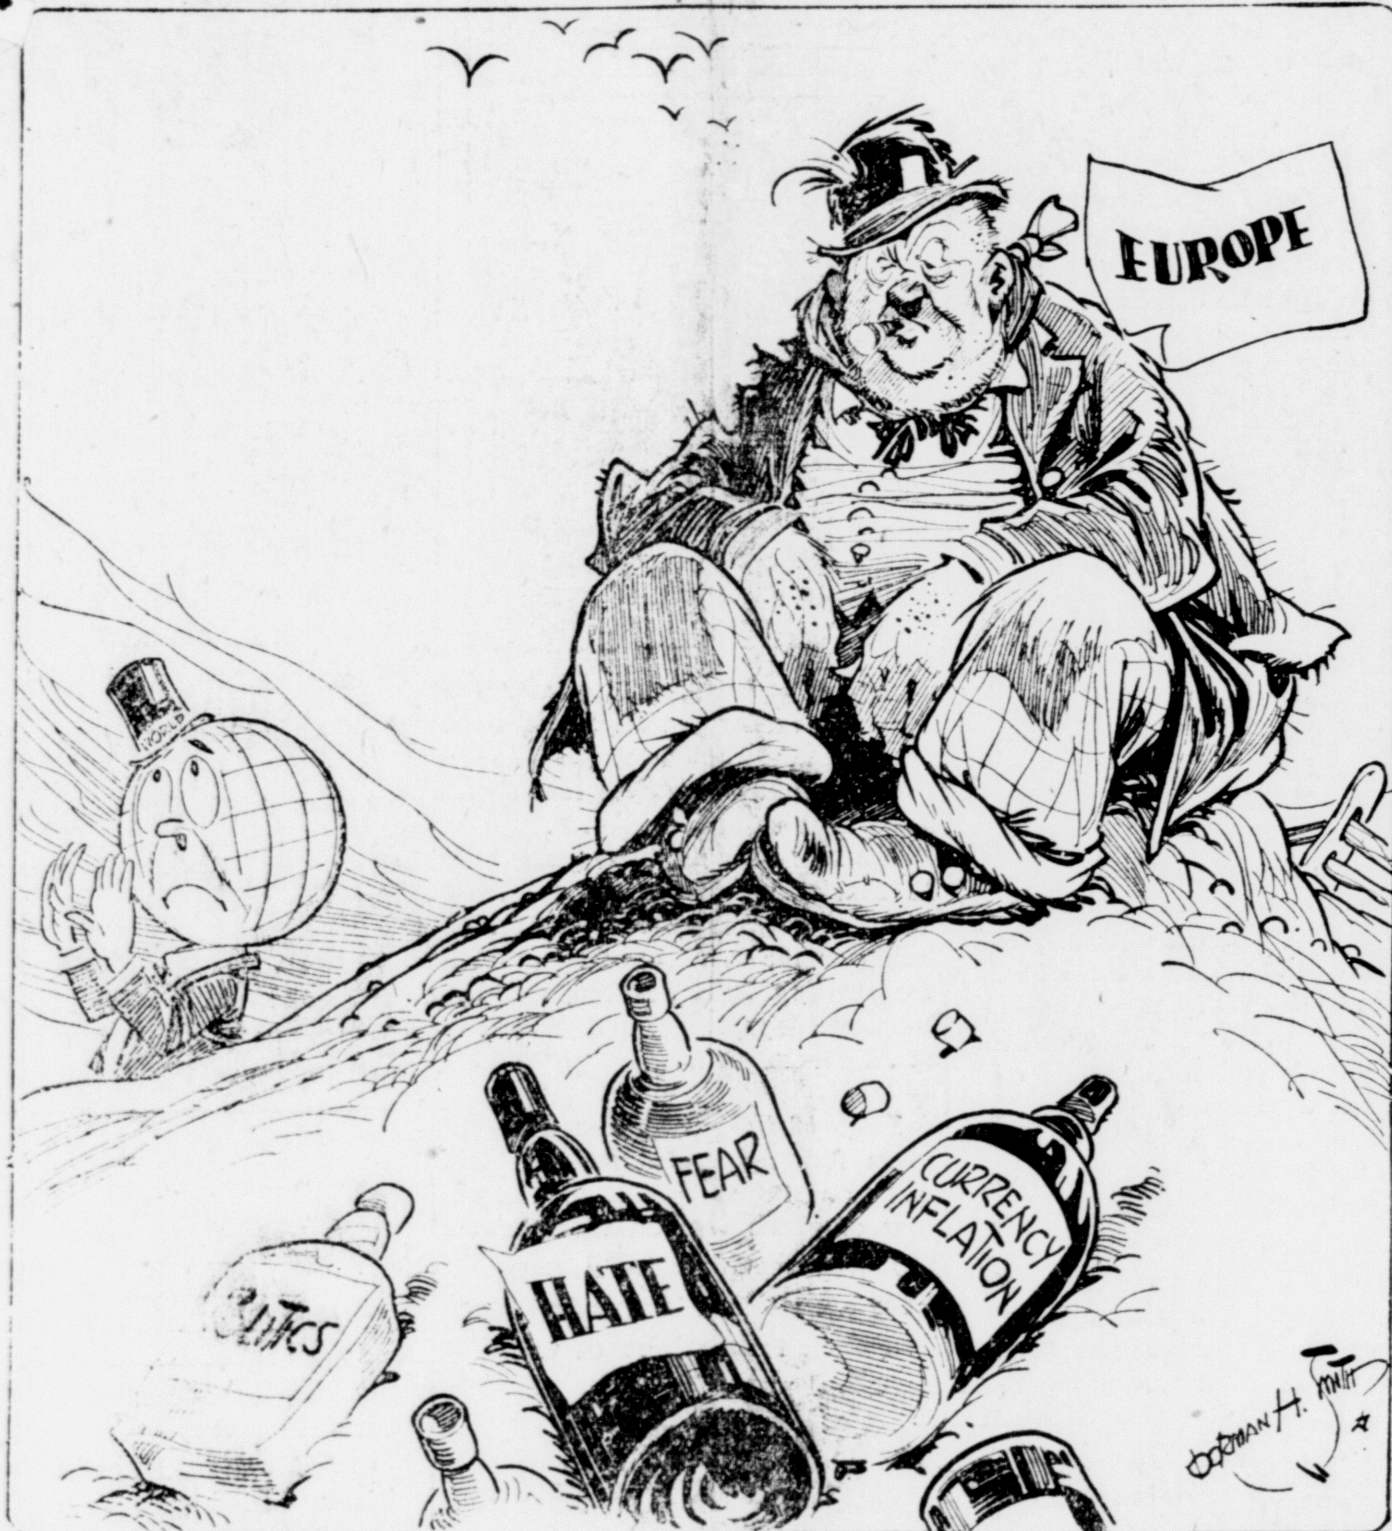

The leading feminine roles are to be played by Louise Pitman, Elizabeth Spanagel, Edith Clare Walden and Miriam Hinchman. Miss Hinchman plays the role of Patricia, the new coed. Boys in the cast are Burke Dugle, Donald Dean, Marland Alexander and Robert Newbold.

An ensemble group of twenty students appears in Acts two and three. The coaching has been in charge of Miss Dorothy Hamrick, head of the English department, and Mrs. John Swain. Tickets are now on reserve at Pitman and Wilson's drug store.

DIES OF HEART TROUBLE

Indianapolis, Ind., April 28—Father Frances Bradley of St. Mary's of the Wood, a Catholic school at Terre Haute, died at the St. Vincent hospital here last night from heart trouble. Hospital authorities announced this afternoon.

THE HORRIBLE EXAMPLE

Men Forget Masculine Ways Long Enough To Act Feminine In Show

Cast of Fifty Presents "The Womanless Wedding" in Faultless Fashion at Princess Theatre, and "Wedding Guests" Provide Program of Music. Village Nightingale and Village Choir Contribute Profusely and Jilted Sweetheart is Too Overcome for Music.

"The Womanless Wedding", given by a cast of fifty men at the Princess theatre Monday night, kept a crowd of several hundred people literally holding their sides with laughter, as well known Rushville men essaying the role of the weaker sex, tried to forget their masculine traits. The "wedding party" was complete, even to the "blushing bride", which was done exceptionally well, especially the blushing, by William Behrer.

The play is under the auspices of the Band of Workers of the First Presbyterian church and was directed by Denning Havens. It will be presented again tonight.

A good bit of the comedy was provided by George Hogsett, who as the Jilted Sweetheart, was immensely "touched" by the ceremony, particularly the music, and gave an exhibition of emotions running wild truly feminine.

Jesse Drake, the Village Nightingale, acted a good bit of pantomime as he "sang", Miss Helen Jaehne and Lloyd Nelson providing all of the melody. Most listeners were completely led astray when Miss Jaehne, out of view in the orchestra pit, sang a number and Mr. Drake "went through the motions" in very good style. He couldn't resist the applause and as the accompanist played the opening strains of "All Alone," people in the audience were surprised to learn that he had a "two-way" voice. The third encore was a duet by Miss Jaehne and Mr. Nelson and then the spell broke. Mr. Drake was arrayed in skirts as short as the law allows and "other accessories to match."

Dutiful sisters, indulgent mothers and gracious feminine friends were drawn on to provide the wardrobe of the Bridesmaids, Maid of Honor, Flower Girls, Ring Bearer and others in the Wedding Party. Some of

GOOD SEATS OBTAINABLE

There are plenty of good seats left for the performance tonight of "The Womanless Wedding," at the Princess theatre, and it is expected that the entire seating capacity will be taken when the curtain rises to night.

STATE POLICE READY FOR ANY EMERGENCY

Trouble Feared in Northern West Virginia Following Burning of Three Mine Tipples

ONE MINE IS DYNAMITED

Morgantown, W. Va., April 28—State police were held in readiness today to quell any disturbance in the strike area of Northern West Virginia following the burning of three mine tipples near here, the dynamiting of mine near Grafton and an automobile parade of six hundred striking union miners at Fairmont.

Three mine tipples of Gilbert Dagen Coal Company were burned last night with an estimated loss of 200,000 bucks. The Sand Lick mine of the Grafton Coal and Coke Company near Grafton, which was to be reopened today on an open shop basis after being closed for two years, was dynamited last night. Damages were limited to $500, but the explosion delayed opening of the workings.

Accompanied by a band of six hundred union miners in automobiles paraded to the Dakota mine of the Bethlehem Steel Company early today where they staged a demonstration until the day shifts had gone into the mine to work. The parading miners made no attempt at violence.

MAHENDRA TO ANSWER QUESTIONS FOR DAILY REPUBLICAN READERS

Mahendra, the India seer, whose extraordinary powers have attracted attention, according to press comments, wherever he has been, opened a five days' engagement at the Castle theatre Monday evening before a large audience.

Mahendra's answers to scores of questions submitted for the opening night were the subject of comment today and caused people who learned of the answers he gave, to marvel at his ability in accurately giving the names and description of persons who sought his advice.

Mahendra offered to answer questions submitted by readers of the Daily Republican, and his offer was accepted. Questions sent to the Daily Republican will be given to Mahendra and he will answer them without charge. The answers, will be published, initials only being used, so that no personal secrets will be revealed.

The Daily Republican does not guarantee the accuracy of the answers. It is willing to act in this capacity for any who may wish to consult the seer free of charge, and no confidences will be violated. Mahendra himself does not attempt to guarantee the accuracy of his answers, but he believes that he can convince people that he has more than ordinary powers.

He proved this Monday evening when he called the names of people whom he had never seen before and who said they had never before heard of him. Mahendra lays no claims to being a fortune teller, nor super-human, and his disposition to handle his performance fairly won the audience from the beginning.

Mahendra will give a special matinee for women only Friday afternoon. He will not undertake any private interviews, but the first ten women purchasing tickets will receive a pass which will permit them to see him personally.

FLAG CEREMONIES ARE HELD

Woman's Auxiliary of S. of V. Give Firemen New Flags

Silk American flags, size 3 by 5, were presented to the Rushville fire department this afternoon in an appropriate ceremony by the woman's auxiliary of the Sons of Veterans. The program was given on the east side of the court house, and attracted a big audience.

Both pumpers from the fire station and the firemen were on hand. Mrs. Daisy Pence presented firemen of Pumper 1 with their flag, and Mrs. James Gregg presented the flag for pumper two. The women gave their drill. Mayor Walter Thomas responded on behalf of the city and firemen and thanked the organization. The flags will be placed on the front of the two trucks.

MAKES PERFECT RECORD DURING SCHOOL CAREER

Donald Carmony, 15 Year Old Graduate of Manilla High School, Never Missed a Day

HAS DEPAUW SCHOLARSHIP

Donald Carmony, fifteen year old graduate of the Manilla high school this year, has made a perfect school attendance record during the entire period of his enrollment in the high school and grade school work. He is the son of Donald Carmony of Manilla and besides the usual record has also led his class for scholarship achievement.

Four years ago he graduated from the district grade school without having missed a day. He entered the high school at Manilla the following fall and every day that school has been in session since young Carmony has been in seat.

As a result he has been offered one of the Rector scholarship at DePauw university, starting next year, and should he accept, he will be one of the youngest students to enter that college. Carmony is not a precocious acting boy, nor has he spent all his time in studying. He says that school work "just comes easy" and study of mathematics is a delight to him. He has led the class in this subject during the four years of high school and his grades have never fallen far below the perfect mark.

ARRESTED AS SUSPECTS IN KOKOMO BANK THEFT

Earl and Charles Northern, Brothers, Held in Indianapolis For Robbery Month Ago

THREE OTHERS ARE IN JAIL

Indianapolis, Ind., April 28—Two brothers, Earl Northern, 22 and Charles Northern, 18, were arrested today as suspects in connection with the robbery of the South Kokomo state bank a month ago. The two youths, according to authorities, have served time for vehicle taking. Kokomo authorities were notified and the chief of police there left for Indianapolis with an official of the bank in an effort to identify the youths as members of the gang which executed the robbery.

Three other suspects, Harry Pierpont, Thaddeus Skeer and Roscoe Hayes are in jail at Kokomo awaiting trial. The Northern brothers, it was understood, were implicated by one of the men under arrest at Kokomo.

"Old Home Town" Departs

The "Old Home Town" comic cartoon, which has been appearing in the Daily Republican for the past two years, passed out with Monday's issue and in its place came a similar cartoon, "Out Our Way," a comic feature that has gained a wide reputation in many metropolitan newspapers. It will appear daily on the last page of the paper.

MUST KEEP UP WITH PRESENT METHODS

Gibson Wilson Declares Church Should Use Modern Ideas to Sell Itself to People

HOW TO SELL CITY, THEME

Minister Speaks to Rotary Club and Mahendra, Mentalist, Entertains With Mind Reading

The church must keep up with present day methods in order to sell itself to the people, the Rev. Gibson Wilson, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, said in a talk to the Rotary club today noon on "How to Sell Rushville People."

"When you try to sell your business, you advertise," he pointed out. "I advertised and it certainly increased my business one hundred percent. But when the church changes its methods, there are some people who believe that the church must go along in the same old way. But the church must keep up with present day methods."

Mahendra, mentalist, who is at the Castle theatre this week, entertained Rotarians for fifteen minutes, showing the ease with which the sub-conscious mind outstrips the conscious mind. He used cards, not as a magician or sleight-of-hand reader, but as a "mind reader." His work mystified his hearers as they were unable to discern how he could name a series of cards drawn out of a deck, or tell the exact number in a pack after passing his hands over them.

The Rev. Mr. Wilson called attention to the fact that he was thinking in terms of moral and spiritual values instead of money values.

"I am thinking of the one hundred families coming here and whether we will profit by their coming," the minister declared.

"My ambition is to make Rushville one of the finest cities in which to live. That is the goal I have before me. That is the goal you should have before you. My idea is to look into every home and see if they have the proper proportion of values."

"It is easier to sell land and houses than it is the moral and spiritual side of life. The professional class have ten chances to become acquainted where others only have one. They become lonesome and homesick. If we sell Rushville to them, we must do it in their own terms."

"I am firmly convinced," he continued, "that the best way to sell Rushville is to sell the churches of Rushville to the people of Rushville. People flock from spending the winter elsewhere full of hope attendance at churches. And in that way the cities were sold to them."

"In speaking on this subject Sunday night, I said that the churches were not sold to Rushville. I said that."

FOUR BUSINESS HOUSES. TWO DWELLINGS BURNED

Fire Visits Village of Windsor, in Randolph County, Causing Loss of Over $30,000

START IN GROCERY STORE

Muncie, Ind., April 28—Four business buildings and two dwellings were destroyed by fire early today in the village of Windsor, ten miles southeast of here in Randolph county, according to word received by the Muncie fire headquarters.

First reports of the blaze calling for help from Muncie said the entire town was in flames. The Muncie department sent apparatus to aid volunteer bucket brigades in fighting the fire.

A message to the chief of the Muncie department at 8:15 a. m., said the fire had been brought under control.

First estimates placed the damage at between $30,000 and $50,000. The blaze started in a grocery store. Origin of the fire has not been determined.

There are only about 20 houses in the village, which was almost completely destroyed by fire three years ago.

The Home Garden

What is Home without a Garden?

Earliest of All Vegetables

The earliest garden ought to be planted now. Spring has been early enough over large stretches of the country to permit earlier work in the soil than for several seasons past. If you have the earliest possible garden you planted last year and already are enjoying parsnips, oyster plants and perhaps young onions from your multiplier or potato onion group. If you neglected to plant them last year put them down to plant this year so you can start using fresh vegetables from the garden with the first thaw next spring.

The earliest garden from seed is rather limited but it is all the more welcome when it is harvested in late May. Radishes, lettuce, spinach and lettuce seed can go into the ground now, particularly the leaf-lettuce varieties. The head lettuce demands a longer season to head. The young plants to transplant should be growing by this time either in a frame, seed boxes or should be planted in the open grounds.

Onion sets may be put in now with a chance of early young onions. The French breakfast type of radish is the one to sow for earliest radishes. The radish has been brought to such a speedy type of growth by careful selection that we now have 20-day radishes that really provide radishes in 20 days. To get this result they must have rich soil and good cultivation in a warm sunny bed. While they like cool earth to develop their bottoms, the leaves need the spring suns to hasten growth.

Plant some of the newer spinach varieties which do not run to head as soon as they get a good look at the sun, a trick that disgusts many people with home-grown spinach.

Plan for earliest vegetable garden with suggestions for follow crops.

mate the attendance at all of the churches Sunday at 2,000. How are we going to reach the other 4,000?

"If we somehow knew how to sell the churches to Rushville, we could put Rushville on the map as never before."

He pointed out some sections were not being reached as effectively as others and that they must be reached for Rushville to reach its highest values morally and spiritually. It is not necessary to go to New York or Chicago, he declared, to find neglected homes, for they can be found in Rushville. The lodges or Salvation Army are not equipped or trained to meet the problem effectively, the minister asserted.

"I wonder, too," he continued, "if it would not be better to have someone to take care of the play time of boys and girls during the vacation."

"The church problem is one you will probably not like to face. It would require financial backing to provide trained leaders who are needed as much outside the church as in the church. The question is whether your church is reaching these people effectively and whether they would like the surroundings and the message if they were to come."

Andy Bohne, a Marion Rotarian, and Fred Casady of this city, were guests at the meeting today.

Hammond—The city of Hammond has nearly reached its bonding limit. Its bonded indebtedness is $1,258,000 and its limit is $1,420,000.

Extra Motor Power with General Cords Explained

Coasting and Running Tests Show Amazing Difference Between Tires

The marked effect different makes of tires have on motor power was shown in General's recent announcements of coasting and running tests.

To understand the reason for the extra motor power demonstrated with the General Cord it must first be understood that all makes of tires absorb a certain amount of motor power. It is internal friction in tires that causes power loss. This varies tremendously according to the amount of internal friction in each.

This internal friction in tires uses up motor power in the same way that friction in the working parts of machinery acts as a drag against power.

Friction is overcome by lubrication. To prevent friction between metal parts a film of oil is used. In the same manner, rubber of the finest grade and in generous quantity is used in the General Cord to keep the cotton plies separated and each cord insulated.

Thus, by a process equivalent to lubrication, General has obtained greater freedom from internal friction, and this is the reason for the extra motor power with the General Cord in comparison with other makes of tires.

Longer Mileage and Low Pressure Due to Less Internal Friction

The extra motor power with the General Cord has an even bigger meaning than the gasoline saving and the longer life of your motor, for that same special feature of construction that accounts for the extra motor power also explains the longer tire mileage—General's greater freedom from internal friction.

Internal friction is the greatest known destroyer of tires. Friction always means wear. And the tire with the least internal friction is naturally the tire that shows the slowest wear, provided this advantage is gained, as it is in the General Cord, without reduction in the number and weight of plies essential to proper construction.

It was General's mastery of internal friction that enabled it to produce, five years ago, the first low-pressure tire ever placed on the market.

Just as today it has enabled General to produce the successful 6-ply balloon cord, to replace 4-ply balloons on all except the smaller cars—combining all balloon advantages with the right strength for the load, as well as reducing balloon puncture risk to a minimum.

The successful use of low pressure depends upon a construction that is able to withstand the heating-up and wearing effect of the increased bending and straining under low pressure.

This shows why General's leadership in low-pressure tires, not only in balloon sizes, but in all Regular sizes, goes hand-in-hand with General's greater freedom from internal friction. It shows also why General has never classified its Regular size cords as "high-pressure" tires.

General Shows How Internal Friction Is Overcome

The process of complete insulation in the General Cord goes beyond the commonly used method of passing cord fabric through a thin solution of gum dissolved in benzol. General's special process, which can only be accomplished by putting the cord plies through large steel calendar rollers, gives every ply a heavy coating of finest rubber, uniformly thick, forced between the cords so that each cord is completely surrounded and no two cords can touch. Other important factors in General's friction-eliminating process are the special weave and highest quality of combed cotton, as well as the development of new principles of tire construction throughout.

General Cord Users Enjoyed Low Pressure Before Balloons

General Cord users did not have to wait for balloons in order to enjoy low air pressure.

With experience in low-pressure construction dating back beyond that of any other manufacturer, low pressure in Regular size General Cords had become a well-known feature long before the advent of balloon tires.

In fact, the history of General's development of low pressure is the story of the evolution of the balloon tire.

This is the background that explains General's singular success with low pressure, first with Regular size cords and then with 4-ply and 6-ply balloons.

You can enjoy low pressure and still use regular size tires

Hundreds of thousands of car owners are enjoying the advantages of low pressure without having changed their wheel equipment — they are using General's low-pressure Regular Size Cords.

It was back in 1919 that General produced the first low-pressure tire ever put on the market—the General Jumbo 30x3½ Cord requiring only 30 lbs. of air.

This is the sixth year of low pressure in the General Cord and only such long-standing specialization can explain General's singular success with it in all Regular Size General Cords as well as the Balloons, both 4-ply and 6-ply.

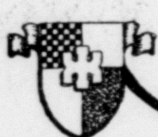

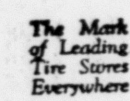

Come in and talk with us. We will gladly demonstrate the low-pressure advantages of the General Cord for your car. If you prefer, a phone call will bring us to see you.

6-Ply Balloon

General's 4-ply Balloon is the practical equipment for the smaller cars. For the heavier cars the 6-ply has greater thickness to carry the load and still it allows the full flexing action over obstructions. At the same time, it reduces Balloon puncture risk to a minimum. And General's 6-ply Balloon consumes no more power than the average 4-ply balloon because General's greater freedom from internal friction always means power and gasoline saving.

Carthage's Dilemma

A satisfactory solution of the difficulties of the American Paper Products company, so that the Carthage plant can be operated again, will be welcomed by the people of Carthage, as well as others who are interested in seeing every community in Rush county prosperous.

Prospects of unraveling the financial tangle in which the company was involved when receivers were appointed, are now more favorable and it is the sincere desire of all well wishers for Carthage that present plans will not fail and that the wheels will soon be turning again.

No part of Rush county can suffer a depression without the whole county feeling some effects of it. From the standpoint of pure county selfishness, aside from any other consideration, every loyal citizen of the county is hopeful of conditions righting themselves at Carthage.

Carthage has grown in the past few years through the stimulus of the paper box factory and the reaction that came on when the plant closed was harmful to the business of the town. Many workmen and their families have left, being unable to wait longer for the reopening of the business, and the result is that many houses are vacant.

The fact that large sums of money were spent to get electric power, after the fire in the boiler room of the factory, a year ago, would apparently make it impractical to consider dismantling of the factory. The equipment is modern and represents a large investment.

Reliable assurance has been received that the reorganization program will go through. But should it for any reason fail, there is little doubt but that the receivers could dispose of the business and that it would be operated, because the plant is too valuable for it to be permitted to rust away.

Moral Code Among Animals

Earnest Thompson Seton, perhaps the world's greatest naturalist declares that a bear knows by instinct that it is wrong for him to steal from his brother bear—and that the growl of a dog with a bone is really a warning to other dogs to respect the command, "Thou shalt not covet." All animals says Seton, have an instinctive horror of murdering members of their own species. They also abhor liars. He gives a striking illustration in which a pack of wolves showed their dislike of lying by punishing a member of the pack who gave "false witness." He makes the startling statement that the animals also know and actually live by the same broad principles of conduct that Moses laid down to guide the children of Israel in their conduct to each other.

It is well known to everyone who has studied the world's religions that "The Ten Precepts of Buddha" are strikingly similar to "The Ten Commandments of Moses." In fact, the moral code of every primitive race—even of the most obscure African tribe—recognizes theft and murder as crimes, abhors "false witness" against a neighbor, and frowns upon the man who "covets" his neighbors' property, including his wife. It is therefore perfectly obvious that these instincts of justice are the foundations of all human law.

Stewart's Washington Letter

BY CHARLES P. STEWART

NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON — Washingtonians are engaged in a strenuous campaign for at least some small measure of self-government.

It's a very natural thing for them to want. Here's a city of nearly a half million inhabitants whose laws are made for them by a body not one of whose members belongs to the community the laws are made for.

How would Detroit or Minneapolis or Seattle enjoy having their mayors appointed by a resident of Northampton, Mass., and their boards of aldermen elected exclusively outside their own states? Washington enjoys it exactly that well.

ONCE on a time, when the capital was just a little cluster of shacks on the Potomac flats and the rest of the country was chipping in to build it up into a fine city, the present arrangement doubtless was all right. But now the Washingtonians feel as if they were of age and would like to vote, at any rate, on purely local questions, and have something to say about the taxes they pay and various other things that concern them a good deal more than they concern anybody else.

WHAT they want and what they are likely to get, however, are two entirely different propositions. The congressional idea is that the Washingtonians ought to be grateful for all they've had done for them. "Yes, we know," groan the Washingtonians, the way all subject peoples do, "but gosh! how we want to be free!"

It wouldn't be so bad if Congress did a first-class job of city governing but there's room for a lot of improvement. Every time anybody, no matter where, gets a funny new idea on municipal regulation and wants to try it out on the dog, he picks Washington. Washington doesn't have to be consulted. If congressional consent can be secured, the Washingtonians have to stand it, whether they like it or not.

AND congressional consent is easy to secure. Washington isn't any congressman's own home town. If it were, he wouldn't be so ready to have it monkeyed with. But being Washington—why sure, go as far as you like. All this being the case, a fat chance the Washingtonians have of getting anywhere with their self-government campaign.

IN the Washington police department's opinion, evidently, the mere fact that a man has a prison record is no conclusive proof that he's a "bad guy." Not these times. Too many people get into jail who nevertheless are all right. At all events, even if an applicant has "done time," he still can get a taxicab license, provided he knows his business and is respectable. "It's a question of

ELECTION WILL EFFECT FINANCIAL RECOVERY

Keynote of Reaction of Germany's Election Was Jeopardizing Further Settlements

TO AWAIT DEVELOPMENTS

Washington, April 28—Official and diplomatic Washington was aroused by the election of Field Marshal Von Hindenburg, to the presidency of Germany, but officials did not want to predict on the outcome, because Germany's future was divided.

The keynote of the reaction were that further international settlements are jeopardized and that Germany's financial recovery is impaired temporarily at least. There was a tendency to await developments before passing judgment on what Hindenburg's election means with relation to a return of the monarchy.

The fact that Germany at present is without military power eliminates the apprehension which would immediately rise otherwise. American bankers are expected to withhold loans to Germany until the effect of the election of the new state head is clear, thus holding up the recovery of the nation which is in great need of foreign capital.

Senator Borah of Idaho, chairman of the senate foreign relations committee declared he did not believe the event need be disturbed. He predicted revival of the national spirit but said he believed direction along the right lines would be helpful. There will be much talk of Germany arming and getting ready for another war, but I do not believe Germany will do anything of the kind, Borah said.

Profits Follow Service

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has been called a "practical idealist," because of its sane appreciation of the relation between service and profits. It realizes that profit is the only spur to attract capital, which in turn makes the economical production of merchandise possible.

It is because the Company, by successful management, far-sighted policies and insisting that service is the surest guide to profit, has been able to earn a satisfactory return for its stockholders, that money has been available always, when further expansion of the business has been necessary.

This Company realizes that profits always follow intelligent service. Without a genuine service, honestly rendered, there can be no sustained profit. It is futile, therefore, to consider profits at all without first considering the service which produces them.

What the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) does to create an essential service to 30 million people in 10 Middle Western States must be considered necessarily before the reasonableness of "what it earns" can be estimated.

The ramifications of service as referred to above are legion. Delivering a good product is only one phase, and while of major importance, it is not primary or even basic.

For service is efficient only in so far as it is whole-souled and enthusiastic.

The Management of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) lays its cornerstone of service on the foundation of taking a sincere and keen interest in the welfare of the 27,000 men and women who make up its organization.

For an employee to do good work—to do justice to himself and to his task—must have a free and easy mind without worry for the future.

The Management of this Company has provided a method whereby employees can accumulate—in which the Company assists liberally—it has provided an insurance plan for the family of the employee—it has provided a competence for old age or incapacity.

The effect of these several plans has been to promote harmony—enthusiasm—good-will—in short, the spirit of service—which makes money for stockholders, 15,000 of whom are employees.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana), in making profits for its stockholders, is enabled to continue making petroleum products for its customers thus increasing the national wealth, and enabling our splendid modern civilization to "move on wheels," to the fulfilling of a continually greater and more important destiny.

Komertri Club—two delegates.

The three-fold purpose of the Delphian Society was manifest at its guest evening April 24th in the Social Club at which time Mrs. Demarchus Brown was at her brilliant best in a lecture on Italy.

The chapter had as its guests, in addition to men and women friends of the membership, some thirty recent girl graduates who are the club women of tomorrow, and the members of our school faculty who are from out of town.

Thus the chapter through the medium of such a get-together earnestly endeavored to make these groups feel its friendship and, further, its desire to render any service in the future to any one of them which fall in the line of such an organization.

Some feel that Delphian is different from other study clubs in that it has so little time for a social side. This is quite true but they hope that the statement does not come as a criticism because the immense territory Delphian has to cover in the six years excludes automatically anything but study.

The society welcomes, therefore, his rare annual privilege of mingling socially and expending cordially to its friends and to each other.

The parlor and lounge of the Elks Club was the scene of a most delightful entertainment Monday evening, April 27, when guests of the Fortnightly Club assembled for a social mingling. After the president, Mrs. Paul Stewart, had most ably greeted the guests, she announced that the treat for the evening was to be a program by little Miss Eleanore Martin, a harpist and reader of Richmond, Indiana. Also the committee had prevailed upon Miss Alice Piersol, the county supervisor of music, to render two solos.

Every guest will vouch for the treat it proved to be for they found little 14 year old Eleanore Martin to be a very genius. Her versatility as an instrumentalist was almost equaled by the range of her dramatic sense. Her harp selections were intricate, demanding a wonderful technique on the part of the young musician. Her impersonations included the young and frivolous as well as the old and decrepit, and in every instance there breathed the soul of splendid interpretation.

Miss Piersol's solos received the marked applause of her hearers, proving again their appreciation of an unusual voice combined with a perfectly charming personality.

The present officers of the Fortnightly Study Club were elected again for next year. Mrs. Mina Reeves, president; Mrs. Elsie Newhouse, vice president; Mrs. Lydia Urbach, secretary, Mrs. Emeline Brann, treasurer.

YOUR NEIGHBORHOOD

Don't be too good for your neighborhood. There may be undesirables in it and there may be folks next door with whom you differ but since you don't actually have to live with them, wouldn't it be possible to gain a state of mind that after all your neighborhood is what you make it. To "knock" it does not necessarily paint you as a desirable neighbor. Your listener automatically wonders about the other side your story and if the difference can't be settled in the neighborhood—assuredly it won't mend matters to go prattling outside of that block about it.

Doesn't it warm you through and through when you are needing friendship those who live closest give it? Don't you feel that if those who get a "Close-up" of you can tolerate you and be your friends, that you've gained a big thing right there?

The field for service is great among ones neighbors. Near ones die, little ones fall victim to every childish disease which is abroad, a dear woman is struggling against some tremendous obstacle, some man is in grief, an invalid, the blind, the deaf, the aged—all of these need you and if you can only glimpse the glory of such a service, if you can somehow get down and listen to your neighborhood's heart throbs you will be consumed with a desire to be that neighborhood's friend. People will miss you when you are gone. Your days will be full of neighborly smiles and neighborly thots until that section where you live will be the dearest to you in all the world.

You may be very busy and your interests may be largely elsewhere than among those near whom you live but now and then let them know that you are to be depended upon and listen to them frequently enough to know them and their trials, their hopes, their plans, and share them to the best of your ability.

No one is better than her neighborhood. Such was not God's plan. You must try to be worthy of it and thus earn for yourself the name of being a Good Neighbor.

PRESS CHAIRMAN.

William Hodge at Murat

William Hodge, the nationally beloved actor, will come to the Shubert-Murat Theatre, Indianapolis, on Monday, May 4th, for a return engagement of three days with a matinee on Wednesday in "For All Of Us" the great laughing success in which he has already played one entire season in Chicago, and one entire season in New York.

"For All Of Us," is described by the critics as a play with a universal appeal which wins all classes of people. Mr. Hodge is seen as Tom Griswold, a humorous and lovable old Irish ditch-digger, the boss of a gang of workmen, who is thrown by chance into the household of a wealthy banker whose mental and physical welfare have been wrecked by illness. Tom has evolved a theory that all diseases are fundamentally the result of wrong-thinking. Montague once said "As we think, so we are," and so re-echoing his sentiments, the ditch-digger offers a cure to the weary financier, whose home and happiness are broken. The results are startling and at the same time most amusing, and an appealing love story is unfolded.

In the opinion of many critics, Mr. Hodge's performance is destined to rank with the greatest of the theatre. In the words of the New York Evening Mail, "Mr. Hodge adds an unforgettable portrait to the gallery of great American stage characters." Not since "The Man From Home" has he been seen to such advantage, and he has the superior support of an exceptional cast including Charlotte Wyners, as the charming Joey, Frank Losee as the banker, Marion Abbott, Frank Burbeck, Courtney White, Lucille Hustling, Frank Charlton, J. Warren Lyons, Philip Dunning and Jane Lambie.

The opening performance Monday, May 4th, has been taken by the Optimist Club for a theatre party.

Tells of the Benefit Received by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Leavenworth, Kansas. — "My work was long-distance operating and supervising, and I got into a very nervous state and was all run down. I was easily annoyed at trifles, was extremely nervous and always had a tired feeling which made me awfully listless. Through a newspaper I learned of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and thinking it would help me I tried it. It quieted my nerves, I was less annoyed and more lively. It took away that dragging feeling and improved my health in every way. I was able to continue my work with more vigor than before and I recommend the Vegetable Compound to all young girls. I am married now and have a big baby boy and am in the best of health. If I should ever have any trouble I'll take the Vegetable Compound again, for I know it will help me as it did before." — Mrs. O. W. THIEL, 925 Pawnee Street, Leavenworth, Kansas.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a dependable medicine for all these troubles. For sale by druggists everywhere.

Governor Jackson Issues Proclamation Declaring in Effect 136 of 218 Acts Passed

OTHERS ALREADY IN EFFECT

Most Notable of Acts Was Taking Effect of Wright's "Bone Dry" Act

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., April 28—Governor Jackson today issued a proclamation declaring in effect the 136 of the 218 acts passed by the 1925 legislature.

The remainder of the acts have already gone into effect or are to go into effect at a later date.

The declaration was issued when the receipt for bound volumes of the acts sent out by the secretary of state to all counties in Indiana was turned in from the last county.

The date upon the acts on which they are effective is the date of the last receipt.

Eighty-eight receipts were, in yesterday and the remaining were sent in today.

Most notable with the proclamation of the acts was the taking effect of the Wright "bone dry" act making Indiana one of the driest states in the union.

The act codifies all the prohibition acts heretofore put into effect in the state and sets stricter limitations on liquor law violators than any other acts heretofore in effect.

Those who opposed the act in the last legislature expect its constitutionality to be severely attacked.

Next to the prohibition act, the Harlan garnishee act is deemed the most important which will go into effect on the proclamation.

It provides for the garnishment of all incomes even to that of the lowest wage earner; all incomes under the acts will be subject to garnishment for debt.

The Moorhead act for the regulation of all interstate common carrier motor busses and trucks by the public service commission was put in force by the proclamation. Application for certificate to operate are expected to come in rapidly to the commission soon after the proclamation is broadcast.

Regulation of the sale of pistols and revolvers is provided in the Holmes act which went into effect with the proclamation.

Other acts put into force include: Three administration measures providing for a state budget advisory committee, diversion of all state fees into the general fund, and elimination of all special levies by transferring them into the general fund.

Consolidation of the state library, state law library, historical commission, and the legislative reference bureau into one department. This

COPIES OF NEW LAWS ARE DISTRIBUTED HERE

MONTH EARLIER THIS YEAR

Copies of the acts of the 1925 Indiana General Assembly have been received here by Leonard Barlow, county clerk, and are being distributed to persons entitled to the volumes. There were 180 copies of the laws received in the shipment.

The acts this year are in advance of the ones usually received by 30 days, and this year the books were sent to the outlying counties first, and those closer to Indianapolis came last in the list.

Since each county clerk has received for the books, and all 92 receipts are in the hands of Governor Jackson, he issued a proclamation declaring the laws as enacted by the legislature, to be in effect and full force.

A record has been established this year in printing the books and sending them out as the earliest date on record for issuing the proclamation was May 31, during the administration of Gov. McCray.

MERCURY TALKS

Weather Man Puts "Quietus" Summer Time Temperatures

The weather man turned the mercury backward down the tube during the night, and shut off the summer time temperatures that prevailed last week end when the highest reached was 89 degrees.

With the extremely high temperatures of several days last week, a sudden change was perfected during the night, and the mercury that had stood above the 80 mark for several days, dropped to 44 degrees above zero during the night. The drop was especially noticeable, because one had adapted themselves to the warm weather. The prediction for Wednesday is for continued cool, with possibly showers by Wednesday night.

FIVE WEEKS' SERIES OPENS AUSPICIOUSLY

Classes for Women are Held in Richland and Noble Townships Monday with Good Attendance

DR. N. M. ARTHUR LECTURER

The five weeks' series of classes for women, to be held in Rush county under the auspices of the Indiana State Board of Health, division of infant and child hygiene, opened auspiciously Monday with meetings in Noble and Richland townships.

There were forty-three in attendance at the New Salem school building session and twenty-three at the Richland M. E. church. The lectures were delivered by N. Maude Arthur, M. D., who is assisted by L. Evaline Renwick, a registered nurse.

A series of five meetings every Monday will be held in these two townships, and today the lectures were given in Ripley and Posey townships. The same progression will be observed each week, in accordance with the program announced Monday. The first four lectures will be given in the daytime, and the last one at night, because it will consist of motion pictures, including the film, "Well Born."

The last of each week's series will be for Rushville township women every Saturday afternoon at two o'clock at the court house assembly room. Women are invited to be present for the meeting which it is most convenient for them to attend, regardless of whether it is in their township.

SENIORS TO PRESENT SECOND CLASS PLAY

"The New Cood", College Comedy in Four Acts, to be Staged Thursday and Friday Nights

WILL BE AT GRAHAM ANNEX

The class of 1925 is the first in the history of Rushville high school to present two class plays in the school year. "The New Cood," the college comedy in four acts, to be presented Thursday and Friday evenings of this week at the Graham Annex, promises to be as splendid a program as "What Happened to Jones," staged in February.

The leading feminine roles are to be played by Louise Pitman, Elizabeth Spangale, Edith Clare Walden and Miriam Hinchman. Miss Hinchman plays the role of Patricia, the new coed. Boys in the cast are Burke Dugle, Donald Dean, Marland Alexander and Robert Newbold.

An ensemble group of twenty students appears in Acts two and three. The coaching has been in charge of Miss Dorothy Hamrick, head of the English department, and Mrs. John Swain. Tickets are now on reserve at Pitman and Wilson's drug store.

THE HORRIBLE EXAMPLE

Men Forget Masculine Ways Long Enough To Act Feminine In Show

Cast of Fifty Presents "The Womanless Wedding" in Fastidious Fashion at Princess Theatre, and "Wedding Guests" Provide Program of Music, Village Nightingale and Village Choir Contribute Profusely and Jilted Sweetheart is Too Overcome for Music.

"The Womanless Wedding", given by a cast of fifty men at the Princess theatre Monday night, kept a crowd of several hundred people literally holding their sides with laughter, as well known Rushville men essaying the role of the weaker sex, tried to forget their masculine traits. The "wedding party" was complete, even to the "blushing bride", which was done exceptionally well, especially the blushing, by William Behrer.

The play is under the auspices of the Band of Workers of the First Presbyterian church and was directed by Denning Havens. It will be presented again tonight.

A good bit of the comedy was provided by George Hogsett, who as the Jilted Sweetheart, was immensely "touched" by the ceremony, particularly the music, and gave an exhibition of emotions running wild truly feminine.

Jesse Drake, the Village Nightingale, acted a good bit of pantomime as he "sang". Miss Helen Jaehne and Lloyd Nelson providing all of the melody. Most listeners were completely led astray when Miss Jaehne, out of view in the orchestra pit, sang a number and Mr. Drake "went through the motions" in very good style. He couldn't resist the applause and as the accompanist played the opening strains of "All Alone," people in the audience were surprised to learn that he had a "two-way" voice. The third encore was a duet by Miss Jaehne and Mr. Nelson and then the spell broke. Mr. Drake was arrayed in skirts as short as the law allows and "other accessories to match."

Dutiful sisters, indulgent mothers and gracious feminine friends were drawn on to provide the wardrobe of the Bridesmaids, Maid of Honor, Flower Girls, Ring Bearer and others in the Wedding Party. Some of the male actors could pass very well in the parts they played, particularly Will Thompson as the Bride's Mother; Charles F. Wilson as Aunt Miranda; Wilbur Spivey as Mrs. Bean; Henry Baarsma as Golda; Paul Phillips as the Bishop's Wife; Dr. Hale Pearsey as Mrs. Percy Smith; John Wyatt as Maid of Honor and Albert Capp as Fawn Tippet.

Few words were spoken. A good part of the time was consumed with ushering the guests and members of the Bridal Party down the aisle. Franklin Mullin was usher and each presented his or her card to the Door Boy (Richard Morris) and they were announced by the Butler (B. O. Simpson). Louis Hiner, as the Society Editor of the Village Whizz Bang, was among the first of the guests to arrive.

Next entering were Ward Hubbard and John Beaver, the Village Flappers, who served the spiked punch. Then came the Bride's Mother and Father, Gunn Haydon taking the latter part. Edward Wilson was the Bride's Little Sister and L. C. Snodgrass and Alonza Tuttle were the Bridegroom's Father and Mother respectively. Walter Hubbard was the Bride's College Chum and he was escorted by Captain Jinks (Walter Ray). James Sims played the part of the Bridegroom's

STATE POLICE READY FOR ANY EMERGENCY

Trouble Feared in Northern West Virginia Following Burning of Three Mine Tipples

ONE MINE IS DYNAMITED

Morgantown, W. Va., April 28—State police were held in readiness today to quell any disturbance in the strike area of Northern West Virginia following the burning of three mine tipples near here, the dynamiting of mine near Grafton and an automobile parade of six hundred striking union miners at Fairmont.

Three mine tipples of Gilbert Dagen Coal Company were burned last night with an estimated loss of 200,000 bucks. The Sand Lick mine of the Grafton Coal and Coke Company near Grafton, which was to be reopened today on an open shop basis after being closed for two years, was dynamited last night. Damages were limited to $500, but the explosion delayed opening of the workings.

Accompanied by a band of six hundred union miners in automobiles paraded to the Dakota mine of the Bethlehem Steel Company early today where they staged a demonstration until the day shifts had gone into the mine to work. The parading miners made no attempt at violence.

MAHENDRA TO ANSWER QUESTIONS FOR DAILY REPUBLICAN READERS

Mahendra, the India-seer, whose extraordinary powers have attracted attention, according to press comments, wherever he has been, opened a five days' engagement at the Castle theatre Monday evening before a large audience.

Mahendra's answers to scores of questions submitted for the opening night were the subject of comment today and caused people who learned of the answers he gave, to marvel at his ability in accurately giving the names and description of persons who sought his advice.

Mahendra offered to answer questions submitted by readers of the Daily Republican, and his offer was accepted. Questions sent to the Daily Republican will be given to Mahendra and he will answer them without charge. The answers will be published, initials only being used, so that no personal secrets will be revealed.

The Daily Republican does not guarantee the accuracy of the answers. It is willing to act in this capacity for any who may wish to consult the seer free of charge, and no confidences will be violated. Mahendra himself does not attempt to guarantee the accuracy of his answers, but he believes that he can convince people that he has more than ordinary powers.

He proved this Monday evening when he called the names of people whom he had never seen before and who said they had never before heard of him. Mahendra lays no claims to being a fortune teller, nor super-human, and his disposition to handle his performance fairly won the audience from the beginning.

Mahendra will give a special matinee for women only Friday afternoon. He will not undertake any private interviews, but the first ten women purchasing tickets will receive a pass which will permit them to see him personally.

FLAG CEREMONIES ARE HELD

Woman's Auxiliary of S. of V. Give Firemen New Flags

Silk American flags, size 3 by 5, were presented to the Rushville fire department this afternoon in an appropriate ceremony by the woman's auxiliary of the Sons of Veterans. The program was given on the east side of the court house, and attracted a big audience.

Both pumpers from the fire station and the firemen were on hand. Mrs. Daisy Pence presented firemen of Pumper 1 with their flag, and Mrs. James Gregg presented the flag for pumper two. The women gave their drill. Mayor Walter Thomas responded on behalf of the city and firemen and thanked the organization. The flags will be placed on the front of the two trucks.

MAKES PERFECT RECORD DURING SCHOOL CAREER

Donald Carmony, 15 Year Old Graduate of Manila High School, Never Missed a Day

HAS DEPAUW SCHOLARSHIP

Donald Carmony, fifteen year old graduate of the Manila high school this year, has made a perfect school attendance record during the entire period of his enrollment in the high school and grade school work. He is the son of Donald Carmony of Manila and besides the usual record has also led his class for scholarship achievement.

Four years ago he graduated from the district grade school without having missed a day. He entered the high school at Manila the following fall and every day that school has been in session since young Carmony has been in seat.

As a result he has been offered one of the Rector scholarships at Depauw university, starting next year, and should he accept, he will be one of the youngest students to enter that college. Carmony is not a precocious acting boy, nor has he spent all his time in studying. He says that school work "just comes easy" and study of mathematics is a delight to him. He has led the class in this subject during the four years of high school and his grades have never fallen far below the perfect mark.

ARRESTED AS SUSPECTS IN KOKOMO BANK THEFT

THREE OTHERS ARE IN JAIL

Indianapolis, Ind., April 28—Two brothers, Earl Northern, 22 and Charles Northern, 18, were arrested today as suspects in connection with the robbery of the South Kokomo state bank a month ago. The two youths, according to authorities, have served time for vehicle taking.

Kokomo authorities were notified and the chief of police there left for Indianapolis with an official of the bank in an effort to identify the youths as members of the gang which executed the robbery.

Three other suspects, Harry Pierpont, Thaddeus Skeer and Roscoe Hayes are in jail at Kokomo awaiting trial. The Northern brothers, it was understood, were implicated by one of the men under arrest at Kokomo.

"Old Home Town" Departs

The "Old Home Town" comic cartoon, which has been appearing in the Daily Republican for the past two years, passed out with Monday's issue and in its place came a similar cartoon, "Out Our Way," a comic feature that has gained a wide reputation in many metropolitan newspapers. It will appear daily on the last page of the paper.

MUST KEEP UP WITH PRESENT METHODS

Gibson Wilson Declares Church Should Use Modern Ideas to Sell Itself to People

HOW TO SELL CITY, THEME

Minister Speaks to Rotary Club and Mahendra, Mentalist, Entertains With Mind Reading

The church must keep up with present day methods in order to sell itself to the people, the Rev. Gibson Wilson, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, said in a talk to the Rotary club today noon on "How to Sell Rushville People."

"When you try to sell your business, you advertise", he pointed out. "I advertised and it certainly increased my business one hundred percent. But when the church changes its methods, there are some people who believe that the church must go along in the same old way. But the church must keep up with present day methods."

Mahendra, mentalist, who is at the Castle theatre this week, entertained Rotarians for fifteen minutes, showing the ease with which the sub-conscious mind outstrips the conscious mind. He used cards, not as a magician or sleight-of-hand magician, but as a "mind reader." His work mystified his hearers as they were unable to discern how he could name a series of cards drawn out of a deck, or tell the exact number in a pack after passing his hands over them.

The Rev. Mr. Wilson called attention to the fact that he was thinking in terms of moral and spiritual values instead of money values.

"I am thinking of the one hundred families coming here and whether we will profit by their coming," the minister declared.

"My ambition is to make Rushville one of the finest cities in which to live. That is the goal I have before me. That is the goal you should have before you. My idea is to look into every home and see if they have the proper proportion of values."

"It is easier to sell land and houses than it is the moral and spiritual side of life. The professional class have ten chances to become acquainted where others only have one. They become lonesome and homesick. If we sell Rushville to them, we must do it in their own terms."

"I am firmly convinced," he continued, "that the best way to sell Rushville is to sell the churches of Rushville to the people of Rushville. People back from attending the winter elsewhere tell of liven attendance at churches. And in that way the cities were sold to them."

"In speaking on this subject Sunday night, I said that the churches were not sold to Rushville. I esti-

FOUR BUSINESS HOUSES. TWO DWELLINGS BURNED

Fire Visits Village of Windsor, in Randolph County, Causing Loss of Over $30,000

START IN GROCERY STORE

Muncie, Ind., April 28—Four business buildings and two dwellings were destroyed by fire early today in the village of Windsor, ten miles southeast of here in Randolph county, according to word received by the Muncie fire headquarters.

First reports of the blaze calling for help from Muncie said the entire town was in flames. The Muncie department sent apparatus to aid volunteer bucket brigades in fighting the fire.

A message to the chief of the Muncie department at 8:15 a. m., said the fire had been brought under control.

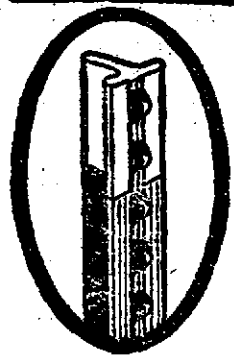

First estimates placed the damage at between $30,000 and $50,000. The blaze started in a grocery store. Origin of the fire has not been determined.

There are only about 20 houses in the village, which was almost completely destroyed by fire three years ago.

The Home Garden

What is Home without a Garden?

Earliest of All Vegetables

The earliest garden ought to be planted now. Spring has been early enough over large stretches of the country to permit earlier work in the soil than for several seasons past. If you have the earliest possible garden you planted last year and already are enjoying parsnips, oyster plants and perhaps young onions from your multiplier or potato onion group. If you neglected to plant them last year put them down to plant this year so you can start using fresh vegetables from the garden with the first thaw next spring.

The earliest garden from seed is rather limited but it is all the more welcome when it is harvested in late May. Radishes, lettuce, spinach and lettuce seed can go into the ground now, particularly the leaf-lettuce varieties. The head lettuce demands a longer season to head. The young plants to transplant should be growing by this time either in a frame, seed boxes or should be planted in the open grounds.

Onion sets may be put in now with a chance of early young onions. The French breakfast type of radish is the one to sow for earliest radishes. The radish has been brought to such a speedy type of growth by careful selection that we now have 20-day radishes that really provide radishes in 20 days. To get this result they must have rich soil and good cultivation in a warm sunny bed. While they like cool earth to develop their bottoms, the leaves need the spring suns to hasten growth.

Plant some of the newer spinach varieties which do not run to head as soon as they get a good look at the sun, a trick that disgusts many people with home-grown spinach.

Plan for earliest vegetable garden with suggestions for follow crops

European growers, particularly the expert gardeners of Denmark, have checked the ambition of the spinach so we now have varieties that spend more time on making leaves.

The round-seeded early peas, such as Alaska, which can stand a frost and will not rot in cold ground, as easily as the wrinkled sorts, are due for planting. Take advantage of the warmest days to get in the earliest of all garden peas.

Some of the new races of enormous flowered frilled petunias will make striking ornaments for the window or porch boxes. California has produced some wonderful petunias. They are worth a trial and will be a revelation to admirers of this old-fashioned plant.

mate, the attendance at all of the churches Sunday at 2,000. How are we going to reach the other 4,000?

"If we somehow knew how to sell the churches to Rushville, we could put Rushville on the map as never before."

He pointed out some sections were not being reached as effectively as others and that they must be reached for Rushville to reach its highest values morally and spiritually. It is not necessary to go to New York or Chicago, he declared, to find neglected homes, for they can be found in Rushville. The lodges or Salvation Army are not equipped or trained to meet the problem effectively, the minister asserted.

"I wonder, too," he continued, "if it would not be better to have someone to take care of the play time of boys and girls during the vacation."

"The church problem is one you will probably not like to face. It would require financial backing to provide trained leaders who are needed as much outside the church as in the church. The question is whether your church is reaching these people effectively and whether they would like the surroundings and the message if they were to come."

Andy Bobine, a Marion Rotarian, and Fred Casady of this city, were guests at the meeting today.

Hammond—The city of Hammond has nearly reached its bonding limit. Its bonded indebtedness is $1,258,000 and its limit is $1,420,000.

Extra Motor Power with General Cords Explained

Coasting and Running Tests Show Amazing Difference Between Tires

The marked effect different makes of tires have on motor power was shown in General's recent announcements of coasting and running tests.

To understand the reason for the extra motor power demonstrated with the General Cord it must first be understood that all makes of tires absorb a certain amount of motor power. It is internal friction in tires that causes power loss. This varies tremendously according to the amount of internal friction in each.

This internal friction in tires uses up motor power in the same way that friction in the working parts of machinery acts as a drag against power.

Friction is overcome by lubrication. To prevent friction between metal parts a film of oil is used. In the same manner, rubber of the finest grade and in generous quantity is used in the General Cord to keep the cotton plies separated and each cord insulated.

Thus, by a process equivalent to lubrication, General has obtained greater freedom from internal friction, and this is the reason for the extra motor power with the General Cord in comparison with other makes of tires.

Longer Mileage and Low Pressure Due to Less Internal Friction

The extra motor power with the General Cord has an even bigger meaning than the gasoline saving and the longer life of your motor, for that same special feature of construction that accounts for the extra motor power also explains the longer tire mileage—General's greater freedom from internal friction.

Internal friction is the greatest known destroyer of tires. Friction always means wear. And the tire with the least internal friction is naturally the tire that shows the slowest wear, provided this advantage is gained, as it is in the General Cord, without reduction in the number and weight of plies essential to proper construction.

It was General's mastery of internal friction that enabled it to produce, five years ago, the first low-pressure tire ever placed on the market.

Just as today it has enabled General to produce the successful 6-ply balloon cord, to replace 4-ply balloons on all except the smaller cars—combining all balloon advantages with the right strength for the load, as well as reducing balloon puncture risk to a minimum.

The successful use of low pressure depends upon a construction that is able to withstand the heating-up and wearing effect of the increased bending and straining under low pressure.

This shows why General's leadership in low-pressure tires, not only in balloon sizes, but in all Regular sizes, goes hand-in-hand with General's greater freedom from internal friction. It shows also why General has never classified its Regular size cords as "high-pressure" tires.

General Shows How Internal Friction Is Overcome

The process of complete insulation in the General Cord goes beyond the commonly used method of passing cord fabric through a thin solution of gum dissolved in benzol. General's special process, which can only be accomplished by putting the cord plies through large steel calender rollers, gives every ply a heavy coating of finest rubber, uniformly thick, forced between the cords so that each cord is completely surrounded and no two cords can touch. Other important factors in General's friction-eliminating process are the special weave and highest quality of combed cotton, as well as the development of new principles of tire construction throughout.

General Cord Users Enjoyed Low Pressure Before Balloons

General Cord users did not have to wait for balloons in order to enjoy low air pressure.

With experience in low-pressure construction dating back beyond that of any other manufacturer, low pressure in Regular size General Cords had become a well-known feature long before the advent of balloon tires.

In fact, the history of General's development of low pressure is the story of the evolution of the balloon tire.

This is the background that explains General's singular success with low pressure, first with Regular size cords and then with 4-ply and 6-ply balloons.

You can enjoy low pressure and still use regular size tires

Hundreds of thousands of car owners are enjoying the advantages of low pressure without having changed their wheel equipment—they are using General's low-pressure Regular Size Cords.

It was back in 1919 that General produced the first low-pressure tire ever put on the market—the General Jumbo 30x3½ Cord requiring only 30 lbs. of air.

This is the sixth year of low pressure in the General Cord and only such long-standing specialization can explain General's singular success with it in all Regular Size General Cords as well as the Balloons, both 4-ply and 6-ply.

Come in and talk with us. We will gladly demonstrate the low-pressure advantages of the General Cord for your car. If you prefer, a phone call will bring us to see you.

6-Ply Balloon

General's 4-ply Balloon is the practical equipment for the smaller cars. For the heavier cars the 6-ply has greater thickness to carry the load and still it allows the full flexing action over obstructions. At the same time, it reduces Balloon puncture risk to a minimum. And General's 6-ply Balloon consumes no more power than the average 4-ply balloon because General's greater freedom from internal friction always means power and gasoline saving.

Carthage's Dilemma

A satisfactory solution of the difficulties of the American Paper Products company, so that the Carthage plant can be operated again, will be welcomed by the people of Carthage, as well as others who are interested in seeing every community in Rush county prosperous.

Prospects of unraveling the financial tangle in which the company was involved, when receivers were appointed, are now more favorable and it is the sincere desire of all well wishers for Carthage that present plans will not fail and that the wheels will soon be turning again.

No part of Rush county can suffer a depression without the whole county feeling some effects of it.
From the standpoint of pure county selfishness, aside from any other consideration, every loyal citizen of the county is hopeful of conditions righting themselves at Carthage.

Carthage has grown in the past few years through the stimulus of the paper box factory and the reaction that came on when the plant closed was harmful to the business of the town. Many workmen and their families have left, being unable to wait longer for the reopening of the business, and the result is that many houses are vacant.

The fact that large sums of money were spent to get electric power, after the fire in the boiler room of the factory, a year ago, would apparently make it impractical to consider dismantling of the factory.

The equipment is modern and represents a large investment.

Reliable assurance has been received that the reorganization program will go through. But should it for any reason fail, there is little doubt but that the receivers could dispose of the business and that it would be operated, because the plant is too valuable for it to be permitted to rust away.

Moral Code Among Animals

Ernest Thompson Seton, perhaps the world's greatest naturalist, declares that a bear knows by instinct that it is wrong for him to steal from his brother bear—and that the growl of a dog with a bone is really a warning to other dogs to respect the command, "Thou shalt not covet."
All animals says Seton, have an instinctive horror of murdering members of their own species. They also abhor liars. He gives a striking illustration in which a pack of wolves showed their dislike of lying by punishing a member of the pack who gave "false witness." He makes the startling statement that the animals also know and actually live by the same broad principles of conduct that Moses laid down to guide the children of Israel in their conduct to each other.

It is well known to everyone who has studied the world's religions that "The Ten Precepts of Buddha" are strikingly similar to "The Ten Commandments of Moses." In fact, the moral code of every primitive race—even of the most obscure African tribe—recognizes theft and murder as crimes, abhors "false witness" against a neighbor, and frowns upon the man who "covets" his neighbors' property, including his wife. It is therefore perfectly obvious that these instincts of justice are the foundations of all human law.

BY CHARLES P. STEWART
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON — Washingtonians are engaged in a strenuous campaign for at least some small measure of self-government.

It's a very natural thing for them to want. Here's a city of nearly a half million inhabitants whose laws are made for them by a body not one of whose members belongs to the community the laws are made for.

How would Detroit or Minneapolis or Seattle enjoy having their mayors appointed by a resident of Northampton, Mass., and their boards of aldermen elected exclusively outside their own states?

Washington enjoys it exactly that way.

ONCE on a time, when the capital was just a little cluster of shacks on the Potomac flats and the rest of the country was chipping in to build it up into a fine city, the present arrangement doubtless was all right. But now the Washingtonians feel as if they were of age and would like to vote, at any rate, on purely local questions, and have something to say about the taxes they pay and various other things that concern them a good deal more than they concern anybody else.

WHAT they want and what they are likely to get, however, are two entirely different propositions. The congressional idea is that the Washingtonians ought to be grateful for all they've had; done for them.
"Yes, we know," groan the Washingtonians, "but we want to put that book aside for the moment, and devote a religious interval to this crossword puzzle. It concerns an important event in Biblical history."

Students of the Bible may put

ELECTION WILL EFFECT FINANCIAL RECOVERY

Keynote of Reaction of Germany's Election Was Jeopardizing Further Settlements

TO AWAIT DEVELOPMENTS

Washington, April 28—Official and diplomatic Washington was aroused by the election of Field Marshal Von Hindenburg, to the presidency of Germany, but officials did not want to predict on the outcome, because Germany's future was divided.

The keynote of the reaction was that further international settlements are jeopardized and that Germany's financial recovery is impaired temporarily at least. There was a tendency to await developments before passing judgment on what Hindenburg's election means with relation to a return of the monarchy.

The fact that Germany at present is without military power eliminates the apprehension which would immediately rise otherwise. American bankers are expected to withhold loans to Germany until the effect of the election of the new state head is clear, thus holding up the recovery of the nation which is in great need of foreign capital.

Senator Borah of Idaho, chairman of the senate foreign relations committee declared he did not believe the event need be disturbed.
He predicted revival of the national spirit but said he believed direction along the right lines would be helpful. There will be much talk of Germany arming and getting ready for another war, but I do not believe Germany will do anything of the kind, Borah said.

appreciation of the relation between service and profits. It realizes that profit is the only spur to attract capital, which in turn makes the economical production of merchandise possible.

It is because the Company, by successful management, far-sighted policies and insisting that service is the surest guide to profit, has been able to earn a satisfactory return for its stockholders, that money has been available always, when further expansion of the business has been necessary.

This Company realizes that profits always follow intelligent service. Without a genuine service, honestly rendered, there can be no sustained profit. It is futile, therefore, to consider profits at all without first considering the service which produces them.

What the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) does to create an essential service to 30 million people in 10 Middle Western States must be considered necessarily before the reasonableness of "what it earns" can be estimated.

The ramifications of service as referred to above are legion. Delivering a good product is only one phase, and while of major importance, it is not primary or even basic.

For service is efficient only in so far as it is whole-souled and enthusiastic.

The Management of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) lays its cornerstone of service on the foundation of taking a sincere and keen interest in the welfare of the 27,000 men and women who make up its organization.

For an employee to do good work—to do justice to himself and to his task—must have a free and easy mind without worry for the future.

The Management of this Company has provided a method whereby employees can accumulate—in which the Company assists liberally—it has provided an insurance plan for the family of the employee—it has provided a competence for old age or incapacity.

The effect of these several plans has been to promote harmony—enthusiasm—good-will—in short, the spirit of service—which makes money for stockholders, 15,000 of whom are employees.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana), in making profits for its stockholders, is enabled to continue making petroleum products for its customers thus increasing the national wealth, and enabling our splendid modern civilization to "move on wheels," to the fulfilling of a continually greater and more important destiny.

Men Forget Masculine Ways—Long Enough to Act Feminine in Show

Aristocratic Aunt and Sam Trubue, his Uncle.

Clarence and Earl Smith were the Bridegroom's Sisters and B. E. Culver, was Roger Bean. Lon Kelso was the Bride's Grandmother and John B. Morris, her Grandfather. Ollie Brown was the Rejected Suitor and A. L. Gary and Arie Taylor composed the Village Choir and Harry Hall was Clarence of Chic Jackson fame. Lloyd Nelson was Tifford Moots. John Boyd as Uncle Eph and M. V. Spivey as Uncle Wash cut a figure when they were announced. B. F. Miller, as John McCormick Jones was able to live up to his name and Howard Hawk as the Old Family Servant looked the part.

Halbert Brown was the Bishop's Daughter and Vernal Trennepohl, Glen Sommerville and Walter Hall were Bridesmaids. Richard Haydon, Kenneth Plunket, Clarence and Gerald Baarsma were Ribbon Bearers and Donald Wilson was the Ring Bearer. Fred Hubbard and John Wallace, Jr., were Flower Girls. Loren Hunt was the Bridegroom and Douglas Morris was the best man, and Walter R. Thomas, garbed in the robe of a bishop, "read" the ceremony.

Before the principals in the Wedding Party were ushered to the scene of action, talented guests gave a program of music, opening with "Old Black Joe" by Mr. Hawk. Lloyd Nelson sang "Somebody's Trying to Steal You Away From Me," and B. F. Miller sang a selection from Cavalier Rusticanna. Dr. Hale Pearsey sang "Old Pal" and in response to applause, "I Love You." The Jilted Sweetheart was visibly affected by the sentiment of the two songs and with difficulty restrained "herself" though thoughtful friends hovered about "her." The Village Nightingale's performance was as rare as it was mirth-provoking and then, when the Jilted Sweetheart attempted to sing "O Promise Me," "she" was too overcome for words, much less music, and "she" gave way to John McCormick Jones, who sang the number. The prelude to the main show closed with "Just Before the Battle Mother," appropriate words being substituted by the Village Choir. Then followed the "ceremony" and afterwards the "clinch," following which there was a scramble

Rush County Federated Club News

The Advance Literary Club is scheduled to meet with Mrs. Willard Amos, Friday afternoon, May 1.

The Delphian Society will hold a meeting Friday afternoon, May 1, in the parlors of the Elks Club, the guest of Mrs. Carl Hester.

The Sunshine Club of Washington Township met with Mrs. Bertha Eakins April 21st. Responses—Miscellaneous. Ten Minute Talks on the Home.

"House Desirable," Mrs. Fannie McBride.

"House Comfortable," Mrs. Emma Bowles.

"House Beautiful," Mrs. Fannie Glidden.

The club will meet May 5th with Mrs. Fannie Glidden.

"Culture," our curiosity is getting keener all the time. We'd like mighty well to be taken into your confidence.

The clubs of our federation were represented at the District convention in Connersville Monday and Tuesday of last week as follows: Tuesday Study Club—two delegates; Ripley Country Club—two delegates; Womans Literary Circle—two delegates.

Advance Literary Club—two delegates.

Delphian Society—Four delegates.

to embrace and kiss the Bride.

Mrs. George Hogsett played the piano accompaniments for the vocal numbers and she and Miss Edna Lucas, violinist and Miss Carolyn Wilson, cellist, played appropriate music and the guests and members of the Bridal Party were ushered to the stage.

Sunshine Club—two delegates. Fortnightly Study Club—two delegates.

Komeniti Club—two delegates.

The three-fold purpose of the Delphian Society was manifest at its guest evening April 24th in the Social Club at which time Mrs. Demarchus Brown was at her brilliant best in a lecture on Italy.

The chapter had as its guests, in addition to men and women friends of the membership, some thirty recent girl graduates who are the club women of tomorrow, and the members of our school faculty who are from out of town.

Thus the chapter through the medium of such a get-together earnestly endeavored to make these groups feel its friendship and, further, its desire to render any service in the future to any one of them which fall in the line of such an organization.

Some feel that Delphian is different from other study clubs in that it has so little time for a social side. This is quite true but they hope that the statement does not come as a criticism because the immense territory Delphian has to cover in the six years excludes automatically anything but study.

The society welcomes, therefore, his rare annual privilege of mingling socially and expending cordiality to its friends and to each other.

The parlor and lounge of the Elks Club was the scene of a most delightful entertainment Monday evening, April 27, when guests of the Fortnightly Club assembled for a social mingling. After the president, Mrs. Paul Stewart, had most ably greeted the guests, she announced that the treat for the evening was to be a program by little Miss Eleanor Martin, a harpist and reader of Richmond, Indiana. Also the committee had prevailed upon Miss Alice Piersol, the county supervisor of music, to render two solos.

Every guest will vouch for the treat it proved to be for they found little 14 year old Eleanor Martin to be a very genius. Her versatility as an instrumentalist, was almost equalled by the range of her dramatic sense. Her harp selections were intricate, demanding a wonderful technique on the part of the young musician. Her impersonations included the young and frivolous as well as the old and decrepit, and in every instance there breathed the soul of splendid interpretation.

Miss Piersol's solos received the marked applause of her hearers, proving again their appreciation of an unusual voice combined with a perfectly charming personality.

The present officers of the Fortnightly Study Club were elected again for next year. Mrs. Mina Reeves, president; Mrs. Elsie Newhouse, vice president; Mrs. Lydia Urbach, secretary; Mrs. Emoline Brann, treasurer.

YOUR NEIGHBORHOOD

Don't be too good for your neighborhood. There may be folks next door with whom you differ but since you don't actually have to live with them, wouldn't it be possible to gain a state of mind that after all your neighborhood is what you make it. To "knock" it does not necessarily paint you as a desirable neighbor. Your listener automatically wonders about the other side your story and if the difference can't be settled in the neighborhood—assuredly it won't mend matters to go prattling outside of that block about it.

Doesn't it warn you through and through when you are needing friendship those who live closest give it? Don't you feel that if those who get a "Close-up" of you can tolerate you and be your friends, that you've gained a big thing right there?

The field for service is great among ones neighbors. Near ones die, little ones fall victim to every childish disease which is abroad, a dear woman is struggling against some tremendous obstacle, some man is in grief, an invalid, the blind, the deaf, the aged—all of these need you and if you can only glimpse the glory of such a service, if you can somehow get down and listen to your neighborhood's heart throbs you will be consumed with a desire to be that neighborhood's friend. People will miss you when you are gone. Your days will be full of neighborly smiles and neighborly shots until that section where you live will be the dearest to you in all the world.

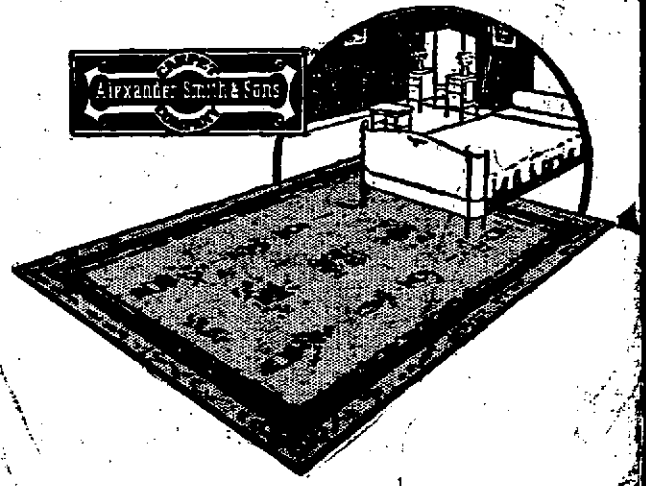

You may be very busy and you interests may be largely elsewhere than among those near whom you live but now and then let them know that you are to be depended upon and listen to them frequently enough to know them and their trials, their hopes, their plans, and share them to the best of your ability.

No one is better than her neighborhood. Such was not God's plan. You must try to be worthy of it and thus earn for yourself the name of being a Good Neighbor.

PRESS CHAIRMAN.

William Hodge at Murat

William Hodge, the nationally beloved actor, will come to the Shubert-Murat Theatre, Indianapolis, on Monday, May 4th, for a return engagement of three days with a matinee on Wednesday in "For All Of Us," the great laughing success in which he has already played one entire season in Chicago, and one entire season in New York.

"For All Of Us," is described by the critics as a play with a universal appeal which wins all classes of people. Mr. Hodge is seen as Tom Griswald, a humorous and lovable old Irish ditch-digger, the boss of a gang of workmen, who is thrown by chance into the household of a wealthy banker whose mental and physical welfare have been wrecked by illness. Tom has evolved a theory that all diseases are fundamentally the result of wrong-thinking. Montague once said "As we think, so we are," and so re-echoing his sentiments, the ditch-digger offers a cure to the weary financier, whose home and happiness are broken. The results are startling and at the same time most amusing, and an appealing love story is unfolded.

In the opinion of many critics, Mr. Hodge's performance is destined to rank with the greatest of the theatre. In the words of the New York Evening Mail, "Mr. Hodge adds an unforgettable portrait to the gallery of great American stage characters." Not since "The Man From Home" has he been seen to such advantage, and he has the superior support of an exceptional cast including Charlotte Wyncors, as the charming Joey, Frank Losee as the banker, Marion Abbott, Frank Burbeck, Courtney White, Lucille Huston, Frank Charlton, J. Warren Evans, Philip Dunning and Jane Lambie.

The opening performance Monday, May 4th, has been taken by the Optimist Club for a theatre party.

The Little Machine that Does the Big Work

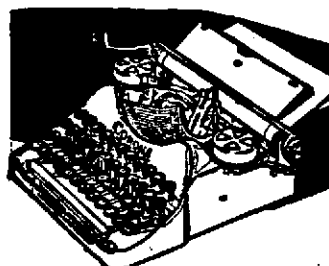

Adds and Lists up to 99,999.99. Multiplies, Subtracts and Divides. Equipped with Standard Features: Total and Sub-Total — Non-Print — Clear — Repeat, and Error Keys. Full Standard Flexible Keyboard. Big Bold Type.

But Above All: True Portability

Portability in Adding Machines — Convenient size and light weight — has been striven for by inventors for years. An Adding Machine for the busy desk. An arm's length away. Reached for when wanted. Lifted about with one hand. Wished for in vain by manufacturers and users alike since Adding Machines were first invented.

THE PORTABLE is exactly that kind of an Adding Machine. It weighs only 15 pounds, and occupies as much desk room as a letterhead. And yet does the work of machines three times as heavy and three times as costly. Its Compact Keyboard, Short, Easy Handle Pull charm the operator. These two features make it much more speedy than the average large machine.

Put any Adding Machine Man on his honor, and let him tell you what he thinks of it.

Only the new CORONA FOUR has all these features

TELEPHONE SUPERVISOR

Tells of the Benefit Received by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Leavenworth, Kansas. — "My work was long-distance operating and supervising, and I got into a very nervous state and was all run-down. I was easily annoyed at trifles, was extremely nervous and always had a tired feeling which made me awfully listless. Through a newspaper I learned of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and thinking it would help me I tried it. It quieted my nerves, I was less annoyed and more lively. It took away that dragging feeling and improved my health in every way. I was able to continue my work with more vigor than before and I recommend the Vegetable Compound to all young girls. I am married now and have a big baby boy and am in the best of health. If I should ever have any trouble I'll take the Vegetable Compound again, for I know it will help me as it did before." — Mrs. O. W. THIEL, 925 Pawnee Street, Leavenworth, Kansas.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a dependable medicine for all these troubles. For sale by druggists everywhere.
